Meridian Trust Provides Thousands of Dollars in Heating Bill Assistance

Cheyenne, WY—Meridian Trust Federal Credit Union has provided nearly $10,000 in financial assistance to credit union members who have been experiencing difficulty in paying their home heating bills.

The credit union's Heat Energy Assistance Trust (HEAT) program has helped low and fixed income families pay their home heating bills. A total of $9,150.32 was dispersed to 34 Meridian Trust members.

"Through the benefit of a financial co-operative, we can assist those that need it most and to encourage self-sufficiency when wintertime can be the toughest on those with limited resources. We recognize that this program is as important as ever," said Kim Withers, Meridian Trust CEO.

Meridian Trust Federal Credit Union provides financial services to more than 27,000 members, with Wyoming branches in Cheyenne, Lander, Rawlins, and Jackson, along with a branch in Scottsbluff, NE; and PowerTrust branches located in Casper and Rock Springs, WY.
