Meridian Trust FCU to Merge with Panhandle Co-Op FCU

Cheyenne, WY — Meridian Trust Federal Credit Union has been approved to merge with Panhandle Co-Op Federal Credit Union based in Scottsbluff, NE. The merger takes effect as of May 1st. The result is the creation of the largest financial co-operative in the Nebraska Panhandle region.

“Through working with Panhandle Co-op Federal Credit Union and their board of directors over the course of several months, we realized that Meridian Trust and Panhandle Co-op had aligning interest in serving the membership and providing a wide array of products and programs,” said Kim Withers, Meridian Trust CEO. “We’re excited about the opportunity and future potential.”

Meridian Trust Federal Credit Union provides financial services to more than 25,000 members, with Wyoming branches in Cheyenne, Lander, Rawlins, and Jackson, along with a branch in Scottsbluff, NE; and PowerTrust branches located in Casper and Rock Springs, WY.
